RECEPTION.

Joint Entertainment by Walker and Technology Clubs.

On invitation of the Walker Club and by courtesy of the Technology Club in extending the privileges of their club house, the college men at the Institute were given a very pleasant evening on Friday last. About seventy-five men from other colleges met informally and had an opportunity to become acquainted with some of the professors and students. The men were greeted by President Loring of the Walker Club, who later introduced the speakers.

President Pritchett was at the meeting for a short time and welcomed all the college men present very cordially to the Institute. He made an interesting comparison of some educational conditions he met abroad with those obtaining here, and took occasion to congratulate all Institute men that they were surrounded by conditions so favorable to serious, painstaking work.

President Guy Lowell of the Technology Club and Acting Dean Merrill also spoke, each welcoming the students heartily to the various interests of the Institute life.

A substantial luncheon was later served in the dining rooms and the men were introduced most pleasantly to the social life of the students.

INTERCOLLEGIATE GEOLOGY MEETING.

A Geology Club lecture was held in 14 Pierce last Friday evening, the subject being the geology of the Boston basin with special reference to the Nantasket peninsula, which the members of the club were to visit on Saturday for further study of its formations.

The speakers were Professors Niles, Johnson and Jaggar of the Institute, and Mr. Bowman of Yale. The lecture covered a discussion of the bed rock of the harbor, the formation of the successive beaches at Nantasket and the method of development of the many beach cusps, upon which the leading geologists have as yet failed to agree. Those interested in the subject left early Saturday morning by train for Nantasket returning by boat in the afternoon.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING SOCIETY

Tonight at 8 P.M. at the Tech Union, Mr. Allen of the Harrisburg Foundry and Machine Works will address the members of the Society on the Harrisburg high speed vs. the Corliss slow speed engine. The Harrisburg high speed engine has a positive valve gear without the dash-pots of the Corliss engine and this fact, it is claimed, has an important bearing on the economy of the engine. This feature will be fully explained and the lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides.

FALL HANDICAP MEET.

Good Attendance at the Meet — Spirited Contests in Nearly All Events.

The Fall Handicap Meet was held at Tech Field Saturday afternoon. The weather conditions were favorable, not too cold, and no wind. There were entries enough in nearly every event to make the contests interesting. The attendance at the meet was not all that could be desired, but was better than last year. Many of the fair sex were in evidence.

The high jump, the first event of the meet, was very encouraging, three men jumping over 5 ft. 6 in. Nine men took part, and seven rounds were enough to decide the winner.

About fifteen men started in the mile run. Beam, '07, from scratch ran a pretty race, finishing second to Buckingham who had 30 yards handicap. Howard, '06, ran well setting the pace up to the last hundred yards when he had to give way to Buckingham, Beam and Sullivan.

Flagg, '09, easily led the hammer throw with an actual throw of 93 ft. 9½ inches. As only three men appeared the contest was of little interest except for the keen rivalry of Harvey and Scharff for second place.

Eight men took part in the shot put. Child, '08, made the best put, 34 ft. 8¾ in., but Harvey, '06, won because of his handicap.

A large number of men entered the 100 yard dash. The Freshmen did not make a very good showing, as only one Freshman got in the semi-finals and he did not get a place in the finals. The final heat was a very pretty race, the last man being within four feet of the first man. Richardson, '08, just beat out Todd for first place.

Only two men showed up for the 120 yard high hurdles. Albro, '07, won in 18 seconds flat, running from scratch, while Noyes, '07, who was handicapped 10 yards, failed at the last hurdle.

In the pole vault Holmquist and Richardson both failed at 9 ft. 4 in. Only six men entered and the vaulting was rather poor. Richardson won on his handicap.

The half mile was by far the best race of the day. The time, 2m. 2s., was fast and Sullivan, '08, ran a pretty race from scratch, winning second place. Gimson, '08, had no trouble in running first as he led by about 50 yards at the finish.

Nesbett, '09, easily won the discus throw, all his throws being greater than the average throws.

The best actual broad jump was made by Richardson, '09, in a jump of 18 ft. 11 in.

The 220 yard dash proved the favorite with regard to entries and was a long drawn-out affair.

Of the seventeen men entered for for the 2 mile run, ten started. Beam, '07, was the only one who went from scratch and the handicaps of the others were too much for him to overcome so that he finished in about the middle. Calloway, '08, who had a 50 yard handicap, came in first with a time of 10 min. 17 sec. Clapp, '06, and Adams, '06, were second and third respectively.

One heat only was necessary in the quarter-mile and the winner of this was Gimson, '08, who ran with a handicap of 20 yards and whose time was 54 1-5 sec. Howe, '06, and Ruggles, 08, ran second and third respectively.

Albro, '07, won the 220 low hurdles, with Mann, '06, a close second, and Jones third. Albro who had already come in first in one other event, the high hurdles, ran from scratch.

Prep school pins are apparently immortal, which does not speak well for the Sophomores.

THE TECH has again to give notice that news items turned in upon small scraps of paper are liable to be lost or ignored.

It seems that there should have been made by this time some move toward forming the Basket Ball Team. Although the incompletness of the Gym may cause slight inconvenience for a few weeks there is no reason why profitable practice cannot be arranged for at once.

Tech's Reputation.

What the presence at Tech of graduates from other colleges means was shown in a most interesting way at the informal meeting at the Technology Club on Friday evening. Although those present were but a small part of all the college men here, every corner of our country was represented and several remote foreign countries. That these men should have found their way to Tech means that Tech first found her way to them. It means that as the Institute is sending graduates into the world, their work reflects such credit on the advantages offered here, that after local colleges and those of much wider reputation have given a man all that they have, those men seek the greater opportunities for a wider and more professional technical training that the Institute is giving.

1908 WIN FROM ROXBURY LATIN.

The Sophomore Foot Ball Team won an easy game from the Roxbury Latin School by a score of 29-0. The playing in the first half was good and fast, although Roxbury played a defensiue game from the start. The second half, however, was marked by ragged playing and fumbling.

JUNIOR CLASS DINNER.

The Juniors held the annual class dinner at the Union Saturday night. The dinner was very well attended and was full of fun and good spirit. E. H. Packard acted as toastmaster. The guests and speakers of the evening were Henry S. Pritchett, A. L. Merrill, G. V. Wendell, F. H. Rand, Carl W. Richards, J. H. Leavell and E. H. Packard. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Packard; Vice-president, Frank; Secretary, Richards; Treasurer, G. Griffin; Institute Committee, Leavell, L. Allen; Executive Committee, Bryant, Fuller.

AT THE THEATRES.

Hollis Street Theatre.

One of the long awaited treats of the season will be at the Hollis Street Theatre this week, "The Duchess of Dantzic," a musical version of Madame Sans Gene." George Edwardes' company from London presented this play at Daly's Theatre, New York, all last season with such success that no other city had a chance to see it until this season. Among the London favorites who will appear in Boston for the first time are Eva Green, in the title role, and Holbrook Blinn, as Napoleon.

Colonial Theatre.

This is the last week of Fritzi Scheff and "Mlle. Modiste" in this city, and this comic opera success will not be seen here again. It has created little less than a furore and the fascinating prima donna has made the greatest hit of her artistic career. Her vivacity as an actress and her brilliancy as a soprano are employed to special advantage in this opera. She has a strong supporting company and the production is staged lavishly.

Park Theatre.

The long awaited, truly great American play has come at last in "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Park Theatre. Charles Klein has taken frenzied finance as his theme and the result is an especially vivid picture of American life of the present day. The cast is exceptionally strong. Edmund Breese and Grace Elliston are among the prime favorites with Boston audiences and show to the greatest of advantage at the head of the company.

Tremont Theatre.

Boston lovers of music will have an excellent opportunity to satisfy their taste during the next two weeks, while the Savage English Grand Opera Company is here. The advance sale of seats is the largest in the history of the Tremont Theatre. During the first week the following will be presented: Monday, "Aida"; Tuesday, "Lohengrin"; Wednesday matinee and night, "Aida" and "Rigoletto"; Thursday and Saturday matinee, "Tannhauser"; Friday, "La Boheme"; Saturday, "Faust."

Majestic Theatre.

Monday night will see the beginning of the fourth week of one of the most successful engagements ever known in Boston, of a rural drama, Dr. Snyder's "As Ye Sow," at the Majestic Theatre. The theatre going public of Boston, reenforced by the clergy and church-going class, which seldom attend the theatre, have crowded the magnificent theatre during the first three weeks of the engagement just ended.

ROBERT E. SPEER'S ADDRESS.

About three hundred men were present in Huntington Hall Saturday morning to hear Robert E. Speer speak on "What Christianity Does for a Man." As the meeting was held under the auspices of the Technology Christian Association, Mr. Speer addressed the students as Christian men, taking for his theme the words of Christ, "Without Me ye can do nothing." He dwelt upon the need of decisive action in the fight for character. In conclusion he said that the whole centre of Christianity was the fact that there was a help in Christ for the man who wishes to overcome, a help which no man could supply for himself or for another.

CALIFORNIA CLUB.

With the purpose of gathering the men from the Golden Gate together, and getting them to know each other, the California Club gave them a dinner Friday evening at the Tech Union. The affair was meant to be informal and social, and there were only three speeches made. Mr. Mayberry of the class of '97, of the University of California, and Mesmer the president of the club, spoke. There were about twenty men at the dinner.

Scott & Co. Ltd

The unqualified success of our "all ready" clothing for men has encouraged us to present this season even a more extreme line of garments, such as until we entered the field were exclusively the province of the to-order tailor.

Our clothing is distinctive in character, of the finest American and English woolens, cut in rare taste, and includes all innovations—provided they are correct—that the best New York tailors promise.

Gun Club and Shadow Overplaid Suits, $25 $30 $35
Herringbone (with stripe effects), $30 $35
